Workshop Details

Each of the four workshops is presented at an intermediate to advanced level. They are designed for professionals who work with both victims and perpetrators of child sexual abuse. These workshops focus on juveniles who sexually abuse other children.

A Multi-systems Approach to Working with Juveniles with Sexual Behavior Problems - Terri Bauer, LCSW, LSOTP
This presentation features discussion about treatment and supervision with juveniles with sexual behavior problems. It is designed to help participants understand how different systems (e.g., treatment, legal, probation) interface to provide comprehensive services for youth who have many different psychological and family problems and have entered the juvenile justice system due to sexual behavior problems. The workshop will cover 5 components of treatment and discuss how to include parents as part of family-based intervention.

Objectives
At the conclusion of this workshop, participants will be able to:
1. Identify the 5 components to treatment
2. Describe how parents are included as part of family-based treatment
3. Discuss how different systems work together in a holistic approach

Get Ready, He's Coming Home: Reunification and the Juvenile Sex Offender - Dan Powers, LCSW, LSOTP and Terri Bauer, LCSW, LSOTP
Many juvenile sex offenders will return home after treatment. Reunification with their family poses many clinical issues for the offender, family and victim. Treatment providers for the offender and victim must work together to make this transition safe and successful. This workshop will focus on family reunification when the victim is a family member.

Objectives:
At the conclusion of this workshop, participants will be able to:
1. Discuss victim issues related to reunification
2. Describe reunification issues with juvenile sex offenders
3. Discuss the use of a multi-disciplinary team approach to reunification
4. Describe a treatment model and protocol for reunification
Psychological Disorders in Juvenile Sex Offenders - James D. Calvert, Ph.D., LSOTP

Juveniles with sexual behavior problems often exhibit other emotional and behavioral problems that must be taken into consideration in any treatment program. This workshop will examine psychological disorders seen in juvenile sex offenders, including developmental disorders, ADHD, conduct disorder, depression, and anxiety. In this workshop we will review how these disorders impact the sexual offenses and how to treat these disorders in conjunction with the sex offender treatment.

Objectives
At the conclusion of this workshop, participants will be able to:
1. Identify common psychological disorders in juvenile sex offenders
2. Describe how these disorders impact the perpetration of sex abuse
3. Discuss treatment for these disorders within sex offender treatment

Taking the High Road: Ethical Challenges and the Multidisciplinary Team - Dan Powers, LCSW, LSOTP

There are many benefits of working in a multidisciplinary team, but it also brings ethical challenges as a result of conflicting values and roles. Issues such as informed consent, confidentiality, record keeping and client relationships need to be examined by individual team members and the team as a whole. Clients' rights which are uniquely related to the multidisciplinary team approach will be examined. We will examine a decision-making model to help participants maintain a consistent approach to dealing with these ethical challenges.

Objectives
At the conclusion of this workshop, participants will be able to:
1. Identify ethical challenges when working with a multidisciplinary team
2. Discuss clients' rights as they are related to a multidisciplinary team
3. Describe the decision-making model for dealing with ethical challenges
Presenters

Terri Bauer, LCSW, LSOTP
Terri is a licensed clinical social worker and licensed sex offender treatment provider. She is currently the Director of the Juvenile Sex Offender Program of Collin County. Terri has worked with juveniles with sexual behavior problems for over 15 years and developed sex offender programs in Grayson and Collin Counties. In 2000 Terri began the juvenile sex offender treatment program in Collin County. Since that time, her program has been featured at conferences in the United States and Australia. A recent study of the program found a 0% recidivism rate for sexual crimes and less than 5% recidivism rate for other crimes for juveniles who complete the program. Participants in her workshop will learn about the components of this successful, holistic approach to treatment of juveniles with sexual behavior problems.

James D. Calvert, Ph.D., LSOTP
Jim is a licensed clinical psychologist and licensed sex offender treatment provider. He is currently the President of Calvert Partners, PLLC a consulting firm specializing in professional training and program evaluation. Jim has presented nationally and internationally on child psychopathology, juvenile sex offender treatment, psychopharmacology, and evidence-support treatments. He is currently an adjunct faculty member at Southern Methodist University and Southern Arkansas University where he teaches child psychopathology, human sexuality, and psychopharmacology. Jim also holds a postdoctoral masters degree in psychopharmacology and is licensed to prescribe in Louisiana. He was one of the first of a group of psychologists in the U.S. to obtain prescription privileges.

Dan Powers, LCSW, LSOTP
Dan is a licensed clinical social worker and licensed sex offender treatment provider. He is currently the Senior Director of Clinical and Administrative Services at the Collin County Children’s Advocacy Center (CAC). He supervises all clinical services at CAC, which provides no cost services to victims of abuse and family violence. Dan has over 20 years of experience working within the field of child maltreatment and family violence. In addition, he provides expert court testimony and consultation related to child maltreatment, sex offenders and family violence. He is a member of the Texas Children’s Justice Act Task Force, and in 2008 Dan was appointed by Governor Rick Perry to serve on the Texas Council on Sex Offender Treatment. Dan has presented workshops on a local and national level in the area of child abuse.
